FORMER NILES MAN TAKEN BY DEATH IN SAN FRANCISCO

James Fallon and Son Both Die On the Same Day

James Fallon, a former well-known and popular Niles resident, died Saturday night at a San Francisco hospital from an operation for stomach ailments. Fallon had been suffering for several years and had undergone eleven operations up until the time of his death.

Death paid a double visit to the Fallon family when James Fallon, Jr., aged 11, the only child, also succumbed Saturday. His death was due to spinal meningitis.

The elder Fallon lived at Niles some three years ago when he was manager of the Niles Associated Oil plant. While at Niles he earned the reputation of being a tireless worker, both for his firm and for civic enterprises. He made many friends in this vicinity who were saddened to hear of his reath.

Fallon was a native of San Francisco. He was the foster son of Mrs. Mary E. Walters, of San Francisco, and brother of Frank and Walter Fallon. He was a member of Alameda lodge No. 1015, Elks, and Castro parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West. He also was a member of Alameda lodge No. 167, F. & A. M. The deceased was forty-four years of age at the time of his death.

His son was the grandson of James F. Cheetham and foster grandson of Mrs. Walters. Double funeral services were held from an Oakland undertaking parlor

Safety Committee to Strive For Stop Sign Observance

"From the yucca palms of the south to the redwoods of the north a siren on the highways of California means 'stop.' Motorists do not disregard this signal, for they know the penalty attached to trying to evade the law!"

This statement is made by Mrs. J. R. Whipple, representative of the Safety Committee of the California State Chambe r of Commerce, representing Washington township.

"Failure to observe another signal meaning 'stop,' placed at boulevard intersections, will bring siren the wailing after the offending car during February, when a statewide effort is being made by the enforcement agencies in co-operation with the Safety committee, to reduce accidents resulting from disregard of boulevard stop signs.

"The law means that a full stop must be made, and it is a misdemeanor to fail to obey the traffic signals. When the motorist feels that stop signs have been erected where there is no need for them, it is proper to communicate with the city council or chief of police, but as long as the signs are in place, they must be obeyed."

NUMBERING OF NILES HOUSES COMPLETED, IS REPORT AT MEET

Expect Erection and Repainting of Street Signs Soon

Numbering of Niles houses is now virtually completed, and this movement sponsored by the Niles Chamber of Commerce has been a huge success, reported J. A. Silva, chairman of the house numbering committee, at the Tuesday session of the civic body. Very few house owners failed to have numerals placed on their buildings, according to Silva.

Announcement also was made at Tuesday's meeting that requests for bids have been submitted to contractors for the painting and erecting of new street signs, thus an additional improvement for Niles can be expected to be consummated in the near future.

An optimistic note for the widening of the bottleneck on Niles Main street was sounded at this week's gathering of the chamber, when Vice-President E. F. Glassbrook, who presided in the absence of President F. V. Jones, said that Lillian MacRae, owner of the building in which the postoffice, telephone office, and MacMarr store are located, had been in Niles last week and announced her intention of moving the structure back, in view of the proposed improvement. No answer to a letter sent by the Niles chamber to the head of the state highway department in Sacramento in regard to this question has yet been received, so what the final action of that body may be is yet unknown.

Rumors that the state highway department was planning to reroute all roads to avoid passing through small towns and communities, were contradicted in an article taken from an Oakland paper and read at Tuesday's meeting by A. J. Petsche. The article read as follows:

"California's highways will not

RAINFALL FIGURES FOR NILES LOOM AS HIGHEST IN YEARS

Snow Covers Surrounding Hills Sunday and Monday

Niles is enjoying one of the rainiest seasons in years, rainfall records kept by Southern Pacific officials at Niles reveal. By Monday morning, the total rainfall for the season had reached 16.32 inches, which is almost double that of last year at the same time when only 8.28 inches had fallen.

The total rainfall for the entire season last year, which concludes at the end of the month of June, was only 11.80 inches, which has already been eclipsed this season with a much larger figure in the offing before the end of June is reached.

By the end of the month of January, 1930, the total rainfall was 7.41, while the total for the season reached 14.46 inches. By the end of January, 1929, the total number of inches recorded was 10.91, while the total for the season was 17.90, a figure which undoubtedly will be surpassed this year.

Saturday night, a total of .15 inches were recorded at the Niles Southern Pacific station, while .78 inches fell Sunday night. The precipitation Sunday night and Monday came in the form of snow on the higher hills surrounding Niles, thus giving them another white blanket this year. Snow flurries fell on Niles streets during Monday forenoon, while a bleak wind made exposure to the weather decidedly uncomfortable.

INJURIES FROM CAR WRECK PROVE FATAL

After lingering between life and death for nearly three weeks, Mrs. Jessie Zahren, of Newark, died last Thursday morning at the San Jose hospital. Mrs. Zahren received injuries when two cars collided on the Newark-Centerville road on the night of January 7, which resulted in her death.

The deceased had been a Newark resident for several years. She was thirty-nine years of age at the time of her death. Her husband, Harry Zahren, her mother, Mrs. Camery, two nephews, James and Harry Miller, and a niece, Mrs. Pauline Brown, survive to mourn her loss.

Funeral services were conducted at St. Edward's church, Saturday morning, January 23.

SIX MORE WEEKS OF WINTER, SAYS BRER GROUNDHOG

A solemn warning has been issued to Niles and surrounding community people. Keep your overcoats and rain garments within close reach for several weeks yet! Who says so? Why, who else but that universally accepted weather prognosticator, our old friend, Br'er Groundhog.

Having looked eagerly forward to February 2, that eventful day when this well-known inhabitant of the subterranean abodes of the countryside annually emerges from his long winter's sleep to cock his experienced eye at the outside world for prospects of spring, the Township Register reporter rose early Tuesday morning in hopes of getting a few words with Br'er on the weather situation.

Hurrying to one of the hillsides surrounding Niles where he had been told Br'er would put in an appearance, the reporter waited expectantly with a question on his lips. Although it was cold Tuesday morning, the day broke clear and bright, which portended what Mister Groundhog's reply would be.

The reporter had not long to wait, for soon Br'er's nose appeared out of a hole on the hillside. Finally his whole body came into view and the animal stood blinking in the early morning sunlight, shivering from the sudden shift from the warm atmosphere of his under-ground den to the chilly air outside. The following conversation ensued:

Reporter: "Hello! Br'er Groundhog. Glad to see you looking so well and healthy. I suppose you are surprised at my being here, but here's the angle (Br'er is not acquainted with publicity agents). There's a lot of people around Niles who are interested in the weather, so I thought I'd drop around to get your opinion on the matter."

Bre'r Groundhog: "Right! People always did look forward to and respect what my reactions are today. But how do things look? I haven't gotten the sleep out of my eyes yet to find out."

With these words, Br'er blinked his eyes several times rapidly and then turned slowly to gaze about him, with the reporter observing intently.

Suddenly Bre'er stiffened as he saw a dark shadow loom up behind him. Without waiting for further words, he darted quickly back into the door of his home for another session of sleep, while the reporter, understanding the answer to his question, trudged his way back to the Register office, resigned to enduring another six weeks siege of wintry weather before spring.

MISSION SAN JOSE SEEKING TO FORM COUNTY FIRE UNIT

Would Apportion Cost of Maintenance On An Even Basis

Striving to increase the efficiency of its fire department, which is now maintained through the contributions from residents and business men of that place, Mission San Jose is attempting to form a county fire protection district. The Alameda county board of supervisors held a hearing on the proposal in Oakland yesterday, Wednesday, according to Supervisor Ralph V. Richmond.

According to the explanation offered by Cyrus Solon, one of the organizers of the department, the purpose of the proposed district is to obtain an even apportionment of the cost of maintaining the department through taxation.

Should the district be formed, it would not result in a hardship upon any property owner, as the reduction in insurance rates would more than offset the slight increase in taxes, the backers of the project contend.

Sunday Services At Irvington Church

Sunday, February 7: The topic for the sermon will be: "Turning the Other Cheek, or How Jesus Fulfilled the Law of Justice."

The questions which will be answered are: "Is turning the other cheek practical?" "What concrete examples did Jesus have in mind?" "Does turning the other cheek give a power of moral command?" "How did Jesus illustrate this when He himself turned the other cheek to the man who struck him?" "How does this apply to Japan's conduct in Manchuria?" "Do Jesus' words apply only to personal injuries?" "How about injury to the helpless?" "Is too proud to fight the right interpretation?" "Will Jesus' doctrine here overthrow economic and social injustice?" "Why and in what way do these words of Jesus imply and necessitate a Cross and a Savior?"

The church choir has given a good account of itself now for two Sundays and from now on will be a regular feature of the morning service. Anyone desiring to participate will be welcomed.

MORE HOT WATER THROUGH USE OF GAS APPLIANCE

Engineers in the past few years have given much time and attention to developing appliances designed to improve conditions in the home—devices to add comfort, increase convenience, and promote better health conditions.

Among those perfected to make housekeeping easy and attractive, appliances for supplying hot water in abundant quantities are among the foremost. A plentiful supply of hot water encourages cleanliness—in fact cleanliness and hot water have become almost synonymous. And with the automatic gas water heater hot water is instantly delivered at the turn of a faucet in as small or in as large quantity as is desired.

Surveys show that the heaviest demand for hot water comes in the early morning hours. Then all members of the household demand hot water for bathing; the man of the house needs plenty for bathing and shaving; it is needed in the kitchen for preparing breakfast and for dishwashing; and afterwards there is a steady demand for hot water for the numerous tasks connected with keeping a home in condition.

The day is much more likely to start tranquilly if there is not the annoyance of having to wait for water to heat, or the necessity of having to manage without. Where there is a good supply of hot water, breakfast can be prepared in short order and everybody is ready for it.

The drudgery has been taken out of old time "Blue Monday" washday. With plenty of hot water to run into the washing machine and plenty more for rinsing, the clothes are on the line in an unbelievably short time with no strenuous effort on the part of the housewife.

The semi-annual "housecleaning" is almost unknown today. This does not mean that we don't clean house at all, on the contrary it means that our houses maintain a higher standard of cleanliness all the year around. Now we don't wait for a certain week or day in the spring and fall, but if the woodwork needs cleaning, the windows need washing, the floors need scrubbing, we do them immediately. And for every cleaning operation, whether laundry, dishes, floors, windows, or persons, the work is accomplished with much greater ease with hot water than with cold.

AMADOR VARSITY SWAMPED BY FAST COWBOY PLAYERS

Loss of Two Forwards Hampers Play of Fighting Pleasanton Team

The Livermore Cowboys journeyed to Pleasanton last Friday evening with a fast and powerful team and defeated the slow fighting Amador varsity basketball squad by a score of thirty-one to nineteen.

Pleasanton varsity's speed was comparatively slower than that of the B team. The guarding of the Dons was very poor, allowing the cowboys to score numerous baskets. At the end of the first half the score was twenty-one to seven in favor of Livermore. Michelli, of Livmore, was high point man for his team during that period, and was the visitors' outstanding player throughout the game.

However, the teamwork of the Amador squad is not up to the point it should be. The Don guarding is the poorest in years, and it cripples the teams' floor work, thus allowing the opponents to score against them easily.

Nerton and Hardy, replacing Miller and Garibaldi, whom it was said were suffering with the flu, were in better shape to cope with the attack, and the second half of the game was more evenly contested. Amador, in that period, scored twelve points; while Livermore scored ten.

The Don starting lineup was as follows: Silva and Clark, forwards; Miller, center; Nerton and Garibaldi, guards.

CORNHUSKERS DROP CAGE TILTS TO LIVERMORE AND HAYWARD FIVES

B Guintet Loses a Close Struggle to Farmers by 27-24 Score

Basketball activities of Coach Regli's Washington Union high school cagers during the past week resulted in defeats at the hands of both Livermore and Hayward A and B fives.

In games played Tuesday night at the Washington high school gymnasium, the Cornhuskers' A quintet came out the short end of a 31 to 12 score, while the B hoopers were nosed out in a 27 to 24 struggle, in which they led up until the closing minutes.

Washington's B team lost 23 to 11 to Livermore Friday night, while the A cagers were turned back 23 to 14.

The Hayward-Washington B game Tuesday night kept the fans in an uproar until the finish, when the Farmers sank several fields goals to come from behind to take the contest.

In the A tilt, Washington took an early lead, but Hayward soon located the hoop and held a 14 to 7 lead at half time. During the second period they were never in danger of losing their advantage.

LIVERMORE GAMES

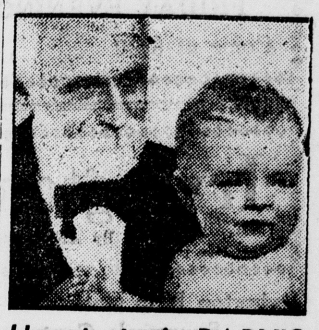

Salvadorini for Washington was the shining light against Livermore in the A contest, tossing in six points and playing a brilliant defensive game.

The Washington line-up and scoring follows: Fudena (2), Rathbone, Trout (5), and Martin, forwards; Rodrigues, Maderos (1), center; Coley, Salvadorini (6), Fontes, guards.

The Cornhuskers' B hoopers were crippled in their game with Livermore, four of the regulars failing to show for the contest. Line-up and scoring follow:

Laybourne (1), Kaynto Masuda, Foehr, Andrade, forwards; Phippen (3), Koga, center; J. Hirabayshi (5), Manuel Renia (2), Kitashima, guards.

Mrs. George Emerson took a group of Centerville children to Mt. Hamilton Monday, where they enjoyed snow sports.

Continue to Draw Supply from San Francisco Wells

Pleasanton Attorney Will Take Matter Up With Water Department

That no apprehension need be felt by the residents of Pleasanton on account of the purity of their water suply, was the statement issued by Mayor A. B. Pickard following a special meeting of the city council last Tuesday. Pleasanton's water, explained the mayor, is now being furnished from deep wells—the same that supply water to the city of San Francisco.

The special council meeting was called to consider a report from the State Board of Health indicating that contamination had been found in samples of water taken from one of the wells belonging to the town of Pleasanton near the creek bank. No water has been taken from this well for several months. City Engineer Sinclair was instructed to see that no water from sources that had not been determined absolutely pure was to be used.

Under the terms of an agreement entered into between the town of Pleasanton and the Spring Valley Water Company, which agreement was later taken over by the San Francisco Water Department, the town of Pleasanton is furnished water by the City of San Francisco whenever the water in its own wells falls below a point determined as 328 feet above sea level. The assumption on which this agreement is based is that the water company's pumping activities lowered the level in the town wells.

With the exception of two or three weeks last year, the water in the town wells has been below the level agreed upon. The city has been furnishing from its own wells water to the town. It is from these same wells that Mayor Pickard has ordered the supply to be obtained until all danger has passed.

Following the heavy rains and melting snow of the past few weeks, the level in the town wells has risen above the point designated in the agreement. A short time ago the city of San Francisco notified Pleasanton water officials of its intention to discontinue supplying the municpality with water unless the Pleasanton officials made arrangements for the payment of the supply.

At the meeting last week Pleasanton City Attorney Nilson was instructed to take the matter up with the officials of the San Francisco water department and reach an agreement with them relative to the rates to be charged pending the use of the Pleasanton wells.

The consensus of opinion expressed by members of Pleasanton council, the city engineer, the attorney, and the city health officer, Dr. J. Hal Cope, is that the contamination found in the Pleasanton wells is due to surface water coming in from the Arroyo del Valle, and that as soon as the snow on the hills stops melting and the flow of the water in the creek is decreased, the water level in the local wells will again drop below the 328 foot level.

Whatever the outcome of the negotiations with San Francisco, the council has declared that no water will be put into the municipal system that does not pass every test for purity.

Livermore Downs Amador B Squad With Foul Shots

Livermore Runs up Thirty-One to Nineteen for Pleasanton Five

Pleasanton B team was defeated by the Livermore B team in a game played at the Pleasanton school's gym on January 22, by a score of nineteen to six.

The teams were evenly matched and the game was exciting for the spectators, the score being a six-to-six tie at the end of the half.

The game started at a terrific pace, and the speed was kept up by the Dons throughout the whole period. Muggs George, center for the Dons, played a hard game and was responsible for the entire Don score. In the first half he scored three field goals, which the opposing team could not check.

Although the Dons played a remarkable defensive game, they were unable to make their baskets count. They had eight opportunities to score in foul shots and failed in every one. Frank Marino, Don guard, checked up on the Livermore forwards so closely that they scored very few field goals. However, the Cowboys made the most of numerous foul shots and rarely missed a free throw.

The game was speedy, with both teams displaying good basketball.

Rochin, of Livermore, was high-point man for the Cowboys with five to his credit.

The Dons played their best game of the season against the Cowboys, who are the league leaders. They have been in the habit of running their scores up into the thirties, but against Amador last Friday they were not able to hit the twenty mark.

Don players were Bottini, George, Marino, Haas, Safreno, and Dutra.

PLEASANTON GIRL DIES AT OAKLAND HOSPITAL

Autopsy Reveals Diptheria as Cause of Death

Death claimed another resident of Pleasanton when little Elizabeth Ruth Casterson passed away at the Children's Hospital in Oakland on January 26, after a brief illness of only a few days.

Betty, as she was called, was taken sick at her home last Saturday, and was put under the treatment of Dr. Dolan for her throat. Her condition did not improve, and she was taken to the hospital last week and died only a few hours after her arrival.

She was the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred B. Casterson and was four years of age.

An autopsy of the body revealed that her death was caused by diptheria.

Private services were held last Thursday afternoon at the Casterson home, with interment following at the Odd Fellows' cemetery, Pleasanton.

"Count and Co-Ed" Costumes To Give Color to Operetta

Love Story of the College Clown To Be Presented At Pleasanton

All the girls participating in the Pleasanton operetta, "The Count and the Co-Ed," held a business meeting with Mrs. Mildred Cohn, Mrs. Smith, and Harry Trip, at Pleasanton, last week for the purpose of discussing the costumes to be worn in the musical comedy.

According to reports received as a result of the meeting, the description of the actors' raiment shows that the costumes will undoubtedly add a dainty and brilliant touch to the opera.

The story of the opera is as follows:

The action supposely takes place on the campus of Marden College, where Kenneth Snooze Andrews, comedian with the Marden College Glee Club, is a cheerful youth with a sad tendency for getting into scrapes and thus incurring the wrath of President McSpadden.

This state of affairs is unfortunate, because Snooze is in love with the fair Dolly McSpadden, and is therfore extremely anxious to gain the good will of her austere father, who is already much worried over the necessity of raising the final $50,000.00 for the college endowment fund.

On the day the story opens, poor Snooze has one more encounter with a traffic officer merely because he made a hurried trip to the city to get a costume for use in the May Festival program, which was to take place that evening, and for which the glee club has planned an elaborate program. In his efforts to hide away from the officer and yet continue his part in the progam, Snooze puts on the costume he has rented, and successfully disguises himself as the proprietor of a delicatessen store.

Now it just happens that Dr. Cicero McSpadden is expecting some distinguished guests for the evening program, and among them is Count Gustave von Weinerheister, a wealthy, but eccentric foreigner, who is well known as a benefactor of colleges such as Marden.

What is more natural, then, than for the worthy president to mistake Snooze, in disguise, for the generous patron of higher education? In view of the fact that the traffic officer is present at the time, it becomes impossible for Snooze to explain the mistake, and he is therefore obliged to continue the deception. This is not altogether distasteful to him, however, because both Dr. and Mrs. McSpadden have urged Dolly to offer the Count every possible encouragement, in the hope that she may win a title for herself as well as a fortune for the college.

In act two Snooze keeps his head, despite the confusion and the eager interest taken in him by Miss Agatha Lockstep, house mother at the girls' dormitory. He finally confesses his identity to both the officer and Dr. McSpadden. At this climax a registered letter is brought to Dr. McSpadden from Count Weinerheister. It conveys his regrets at being unable to attend the program, but says that he was much impressed by the courtesy of one of the Marden boys, who helped his chauffeur that morning. For that reason he is sending his check for $50,000.00 for the Marden endowment fund.

Of course the courteous boy was Snooze, and Dr. McSpadden feels that for his great service to Marden he is entitled to a reward. Snooze claims Dolly, and the end foretells a rosy future for all.

Amador B Five Loses To Hayward Squad In Extra Period Tussle

Hayward Defense Keeps Pleasanton From Field Goals

Pleasanton B team was defeated in Hayward on last Tuesday by the Hayward Farmers in an extra period game with a score of twenty-three to twenty-one.

The Dons met the Farmers with a squad of only seven players, two of the squad being ineligible because of scholarship failures. This weakness cut down the speed of the Pleasanton five to a noticeable degree

The Dons entered the game knowing they were handicapped by lack of reserve strength. As a result the speedy floorwork they have displayed in previous games was missing. The score at the end of the half was thirteen to nine in favor of Hayward.

The Dons started the second half confident, however, that they could stop Hayward and unleashed a burst of their former speed in a successful attempt to do just that. They soon tied the score and even ran up a three point lead for a short period. They were unable to maintain the pace, however, and the fourth quarter ended in a nineteen to nineteen tie.

The tired Dons were forced to play an extra three minute period to decide the game. In that time Hayward scored four points against the Dons' two, and the game ended with the Farmers on top.

Both the Dons' ineligible men were scoring forwards, and their loss destroyed the team combinations which have been clicking so effectively all season.

Muggs George captured high point honors with eight; Bottini trailed him with seven; Safreno, Haas and Marino each scored two. Gibson and Anderson were the substitutes.

MILK INSPECTION AT PLEASANTON COMES AS SURPRISE

D. A. Cordrey and Nelson E. Clemens Find Dairies Above Average

Pleasanton milk distributors emerged with high honors from a surprise milk test conducted last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday by D. A. Cordrey, state market milk specialist from the department of agriculture. Cordrey was assisted throughout the tests by Nelson E. Clemens, Pleasanton city milk inspector.

That city's average score on a volume basis was 96.8 points out of a possible one hundred. This record shows an increase of eight-tenths of a point over the average score of the last surprise test. A score of 96.0 was made in a similar test conducted six months ago.

The three dairies supplying pasturized milk all came above the ninety-five point mark, with the Valley Creamery leading, the Dairyland second, and the American, third. An unusually high figure was set for raw milk when the Meadowlark's product scored over ninety-five points.

In grading the milk, the possible perfect score of one hundred points is divided among various milk qualities as follows: bacteria count, thirty-five; flavor and odor, fifteen; freedom from sediment, ten; per-centage of milk fat, fifteen; per-centage of solids (not fat) fifteen; bottling and capping conditions, five; acidity or temperature, five.

A standard for each one of the above qualities is set as perfect. As a milk is tested for each quality seperately it is given a grade according to how close it comes to the approved standard. By adding the grades up at the conclusion of the tests, the result is computed.

"The results of these tests," stated Cordrey, "show that Pleasanton's supply of milk measure's up well above the average for the state."

Hayward Farmers Beat Pleasanton Varsity In Slowly Played Game

Amador Dons Outclassed by Score of Nineteen to Twelve

Pleasanton varsity hoopsters were defeated by the Hayward Farmers in a game played at Hayward last Tuesday afternoon. The score was nineteen to twelve.

The beginning of the game was slow, both teams playing listlessly, with Hayward managing to score one basket against the Dons in the first quarter.

In the second quarter the Amador guards got caught flat footed and allowed the Farmers to score several set-up shots, which could easily have been checked by the Dons.

All through that period Amador scored but one point and that was on a foul shot. Hayward made five points.

After the second half the Amador forwards started scoring a few baskets, but the guarding of the Dons was not stopping the Hayward plays, and Hayward was still leading at the end of the third quarter with the score twelve to four.

The Don forwards again began to click and started to close the gap, but a couple of last minute shots gave Hayward nineteen to Amador's twelve at the close of the game.

Bob Silva, forward, was high point man (5), for Pleasanton; Clark, forward, was second, with three; Miller, center, made one; and Garibaldi, Hardy, Nerton and Cole each scored two.

Tang of Ketchup in Sandwiches Appeals to Winter Appetites

By JOSEPHINE GIBSON
Director, Heinz Food Institute

IT is said that more than thirty million sandwiches are eaten daily in the United States. The famed Earl of Sandwich, originator of the sandwich, scarcely could have realized the popularity which his idea, with "variations," was to achieve. Sandwiches, eaten in such amazing numbers, are of varied types and are found in both packed and home lunches, in afternoon and late evening party meals and in supper menus. No matter how simple they may be, there is an art in making them varied and delectable. The secret lies in skillful seasoning, for the sandwich is made delightful and zestful by a spoonful of Tomato Ketchup, Prepared Mustard, chopped Pickle or Evaporated Horseradish. Tomato Ketchup particularly is fine in sandwich fillings of meat, egg, or fish.

Grilled Peanut Butter, Bacon and Ketchup Sandwiches—Toast slices of bread on one side only. Spread untoasted side with Peanut Butter, then with Tomato Ketchup. Top with slices of uncooked bacon; broil until bacon is browned and crisp. Serve immediately with slices of Genuine Dill Pickle.

Toasted Cheese and Ketchup Sandwiches—1 cup grated American cheese; 3 tablespoons Tomato Ketchup. Mix grated cheese with Tomato Ketchup. Spread between buttered slices of white bread, trim crusts and toast. Serve hot. These are excellent when daintily cut and served with a fruit or vegetable salad for luncheon, or the sandwich itself may be served on a crisp lettuce leaf, garnished with Spanish Queen Olives and served as the main dish of the luncheon.

Tongue, Horseradish and Ketchup Sandwiches—1 cup minced tongue, ham, cold roast beef or other cold meat; Evaporated Horseradish to taste; 2 tablespoons Tomato Ketchup; 1 tablespoon Stuffed Spanish Olives, sliced; 1 tablespoon green pepper, chopped; Mayonnaise Salad Dressing to taste and moisten. Mix all ingredients together and spread between thin slices buttered bread. Cut into finger length strips.

Oyster Sandwiches — 1 pint oysters; 2 eggs, slightly beaten; ½ teaspoon salt; ½ teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce; bread crumbs; Tomato Ketchup or Chili Sauce. Beat egg, add salt and Worcestershire Sauce. Dip oysters in egg and then in crumbs. Fry until golden brown. Place 3 or 4 fried oysters between slices of buttered whole wheat bread or hard rolls and sprinkle with Tomato Ketchup or Chili Sauce.

Hard Cooked Egg and Ketchup Sandwiches—6 hard cooked eggs, chopped; Tomato Ketchup to moisten; 1 teaspoon Prepared Mustard; ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce; salt and pepper to season; few drops onion juice. Combine all ingredients. Spread between slices of buttered bread. For the packed lunch, wrap each sandwich in waxed paper.

MEASLES AND FLU REDUCE SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

Forty pupils were reported absent from the Pleasanton grammar school last week because of measles and flu, according to the report of V. Bernard Johnson, principal of that school.

Last year the epidemic spread among so great a number of the school children that it was necessary to close the school for two weeks. The number of absentees at the end of the week has decreased from day to day at the grammar school. Because of this fact, Principal Johnson believes that in a week's time the attendance will be back to normal.

A number of the high school students have also been suffering from the flu, but there have not been any reports of measles from that school.

Delucchi had seen him in the pool hall when he passed by the front window. He went around to the rear, found where the robber had broken in, and waited for him to come out. Mello, at the time of his capture, had on his person $3.81 in pennies and two packages of cigarettes taken from the establishment.
